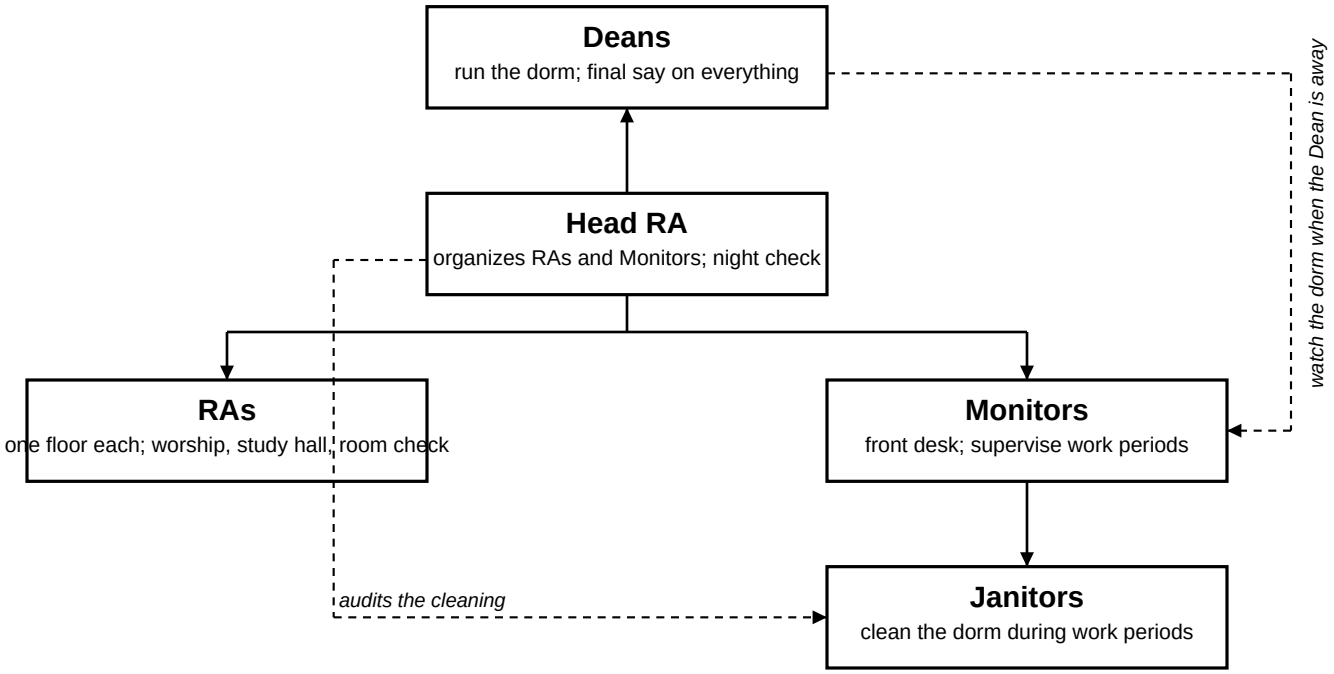
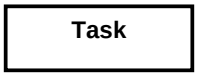
Dorm staff: who reports to whom

Ryan Hall runs on five roles. Each role has one page in this document with a flowchart of its responsibilities. Solid lines show who a role answers to. Dashed lines show who checks on whom.



Reading the flowcharts

Start / end of a shift or routine



A task block: the heading is the job, the bullets are what "done" means

A question. Follow "Yes" to the right, "No" straight down

A standing rule that applies the whole time, not a step in the sequence

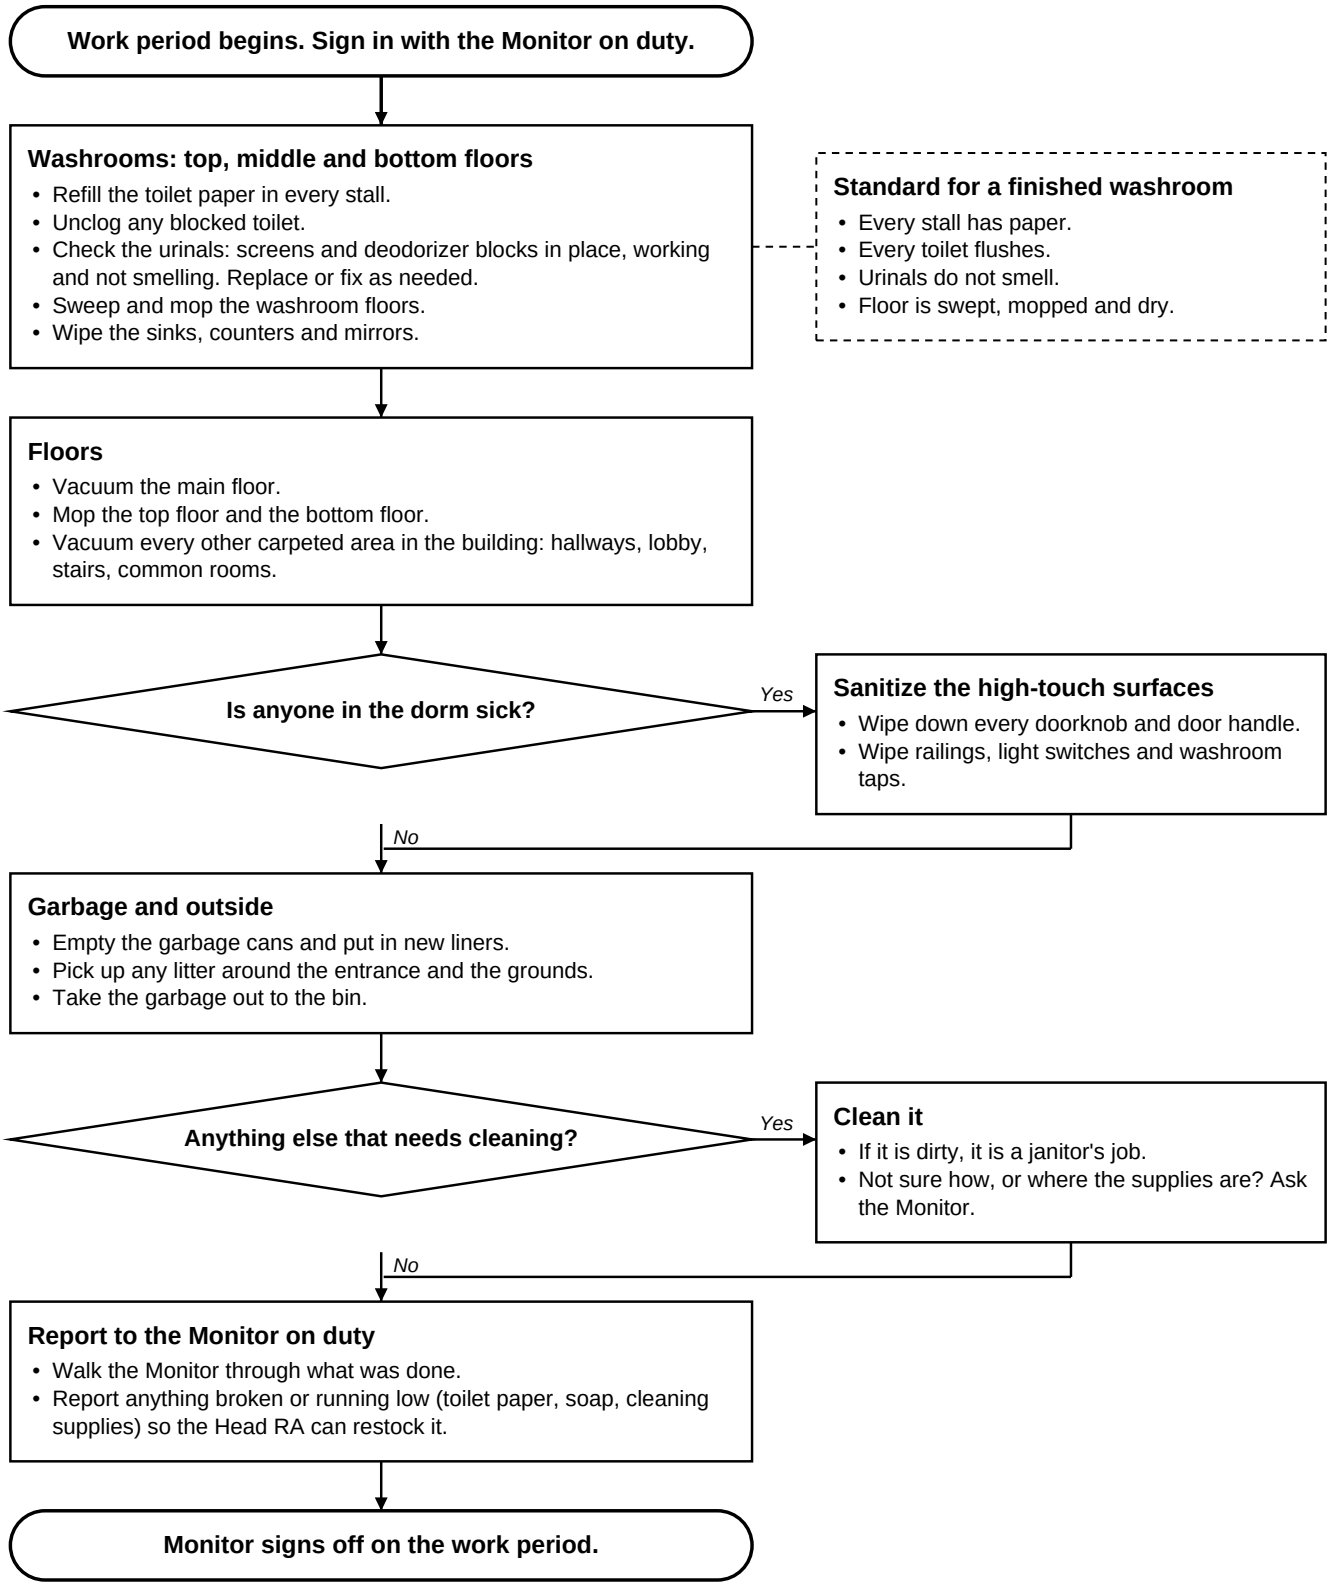
Quick reference

Role	Core job in one line	Answers to
Deans	Run Ryan Hall. Set the rules, handle discipline, lead drills, receive every report.	School
Head RA	Night facilities check; organize the RAs; make sure Monitors and janitors do their jobs.	Deans
RAs	Worship, study hall and room checks on their floor; peace, safety and well-being of their boys.	Head RA, Deans
Monitors	Front desk: packages, visitors, sign-in, lobby. During work periods: supervise the janitors.	Head RA, Deans
Janitors	Keep the dorm clean: washrooms, floors, garbage, anything that needs cleaning.	Monitor on duty

Janitors

Reports to: the Monitor on duty during the work period. The Head RA audits the cleaning.

The janitors keep the dorm clean. A work period is not finished when the time is up; it is finished when the Monitor has checked the work.

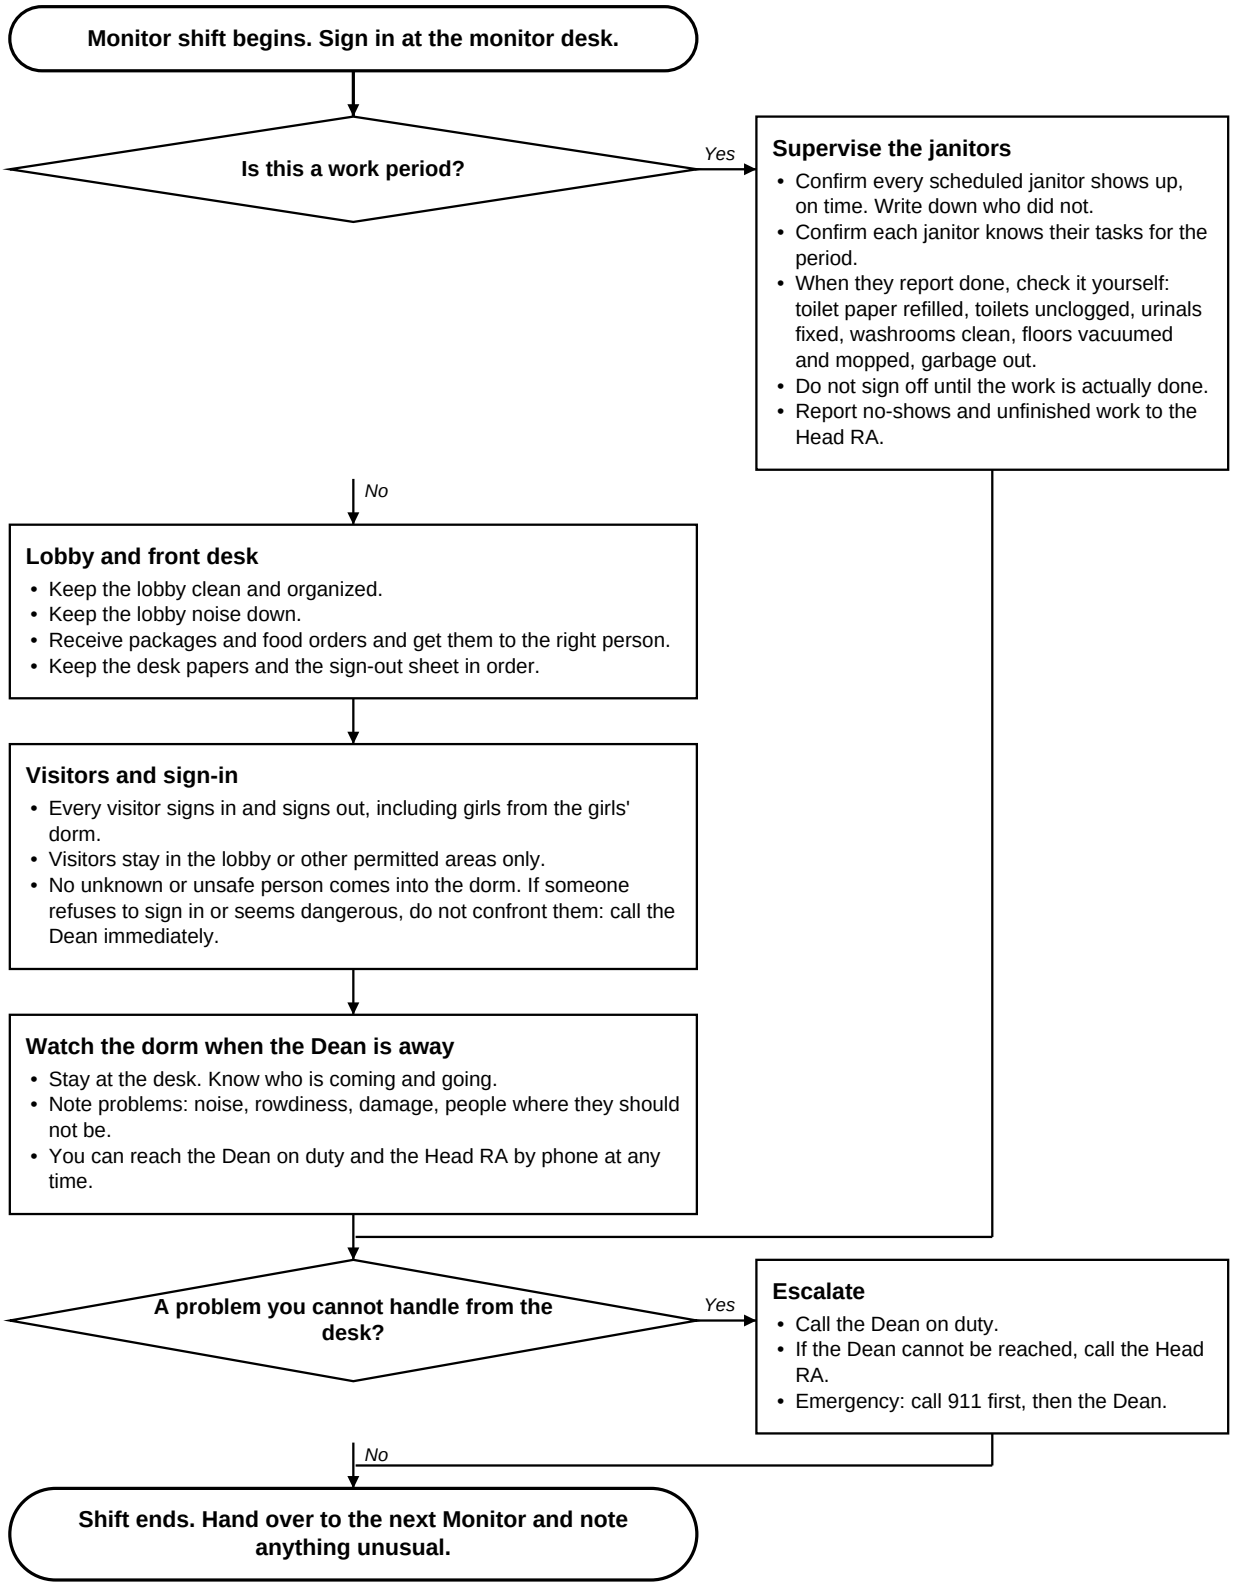


Monitors

Reports to: the Head RA, and the Dean on duty.

Oversees: the janitors during work periods

A Monitor's job depends on the shift. During a work period the Monitor supervises the janitors. On every other shift the Monitor runs the front desk and watches the dorm.



RAs (Resident Assistants)

Reports to: the Head RA and the Deans. Oversees: the boys on their floor

Each RA is responsible for one floor and, during drills, for one grade. The three checks are the backbone of the night; the standing rules on the right apply the whole time.

Evening duty begins (Sunday to Thursday).

Worship check

Default time 7:30 PM. The Deans set the real times.

- Take attendance of your floor at worship.
- Mark each boy present, late or absent, and note why.

Study hall check

Default time 8:30 PM.

- Confirm every boy on your floor is in study hall, quiet and on task.
- Record lates and absences.

Room check

Default time 10:00 PM.

- Visit every room on your floor. Every boy in his own room and accounted for.
- Note lates, absences and dirty rooms.
- Settle the floor for the night.

Incident, rowdiness, or a boy you cannot find?

Yes

Handle it, then escalate

- Calm it down and separate the boys involved.
- Missing boy: check with the other RAs and the Monitor, then call the Dean.
- Never leave your floor unattended during a check.
- Report it to the Head RA and the Dean the same night.

No

Report to the Head RA

- Hand in tonight's lates (worship, study hall, room check) and dirty rooms.
- Flag anything that needs a Dean.
- Sign the check sheet for your floor.

Night ends.

At all times on your floor

- Keep the peace: no rowdiness, no roughhousing.
- The safety and well-being of every boy on your floor is yours.
- Know who is on your floor and who is missing.
- Assist the Deans with whatever they need.

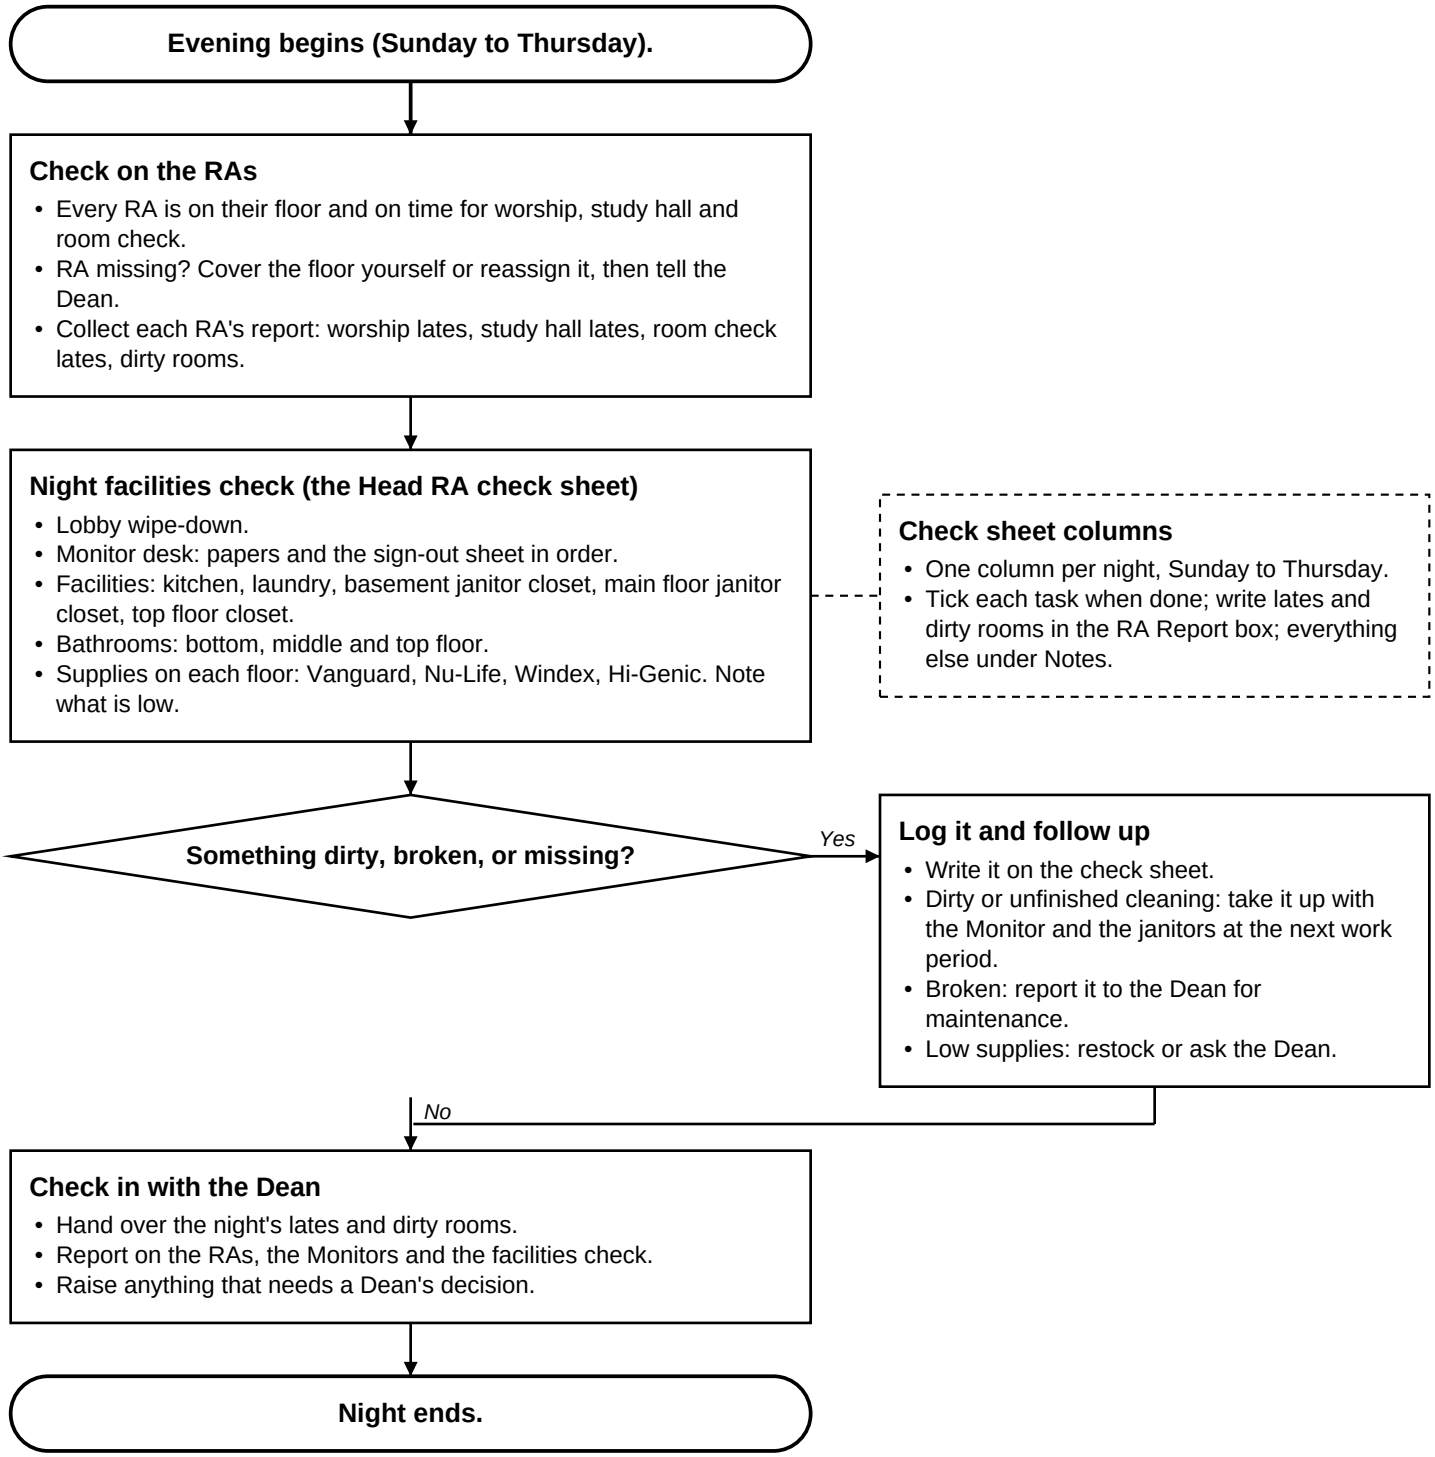
Fire drill or alarm

- Go straight outside to your grade's designated spot (see the Fire Drill Plan).
- Line up your grade, take the roll, report the count to the Head RA.

Head RA: the nightly routine

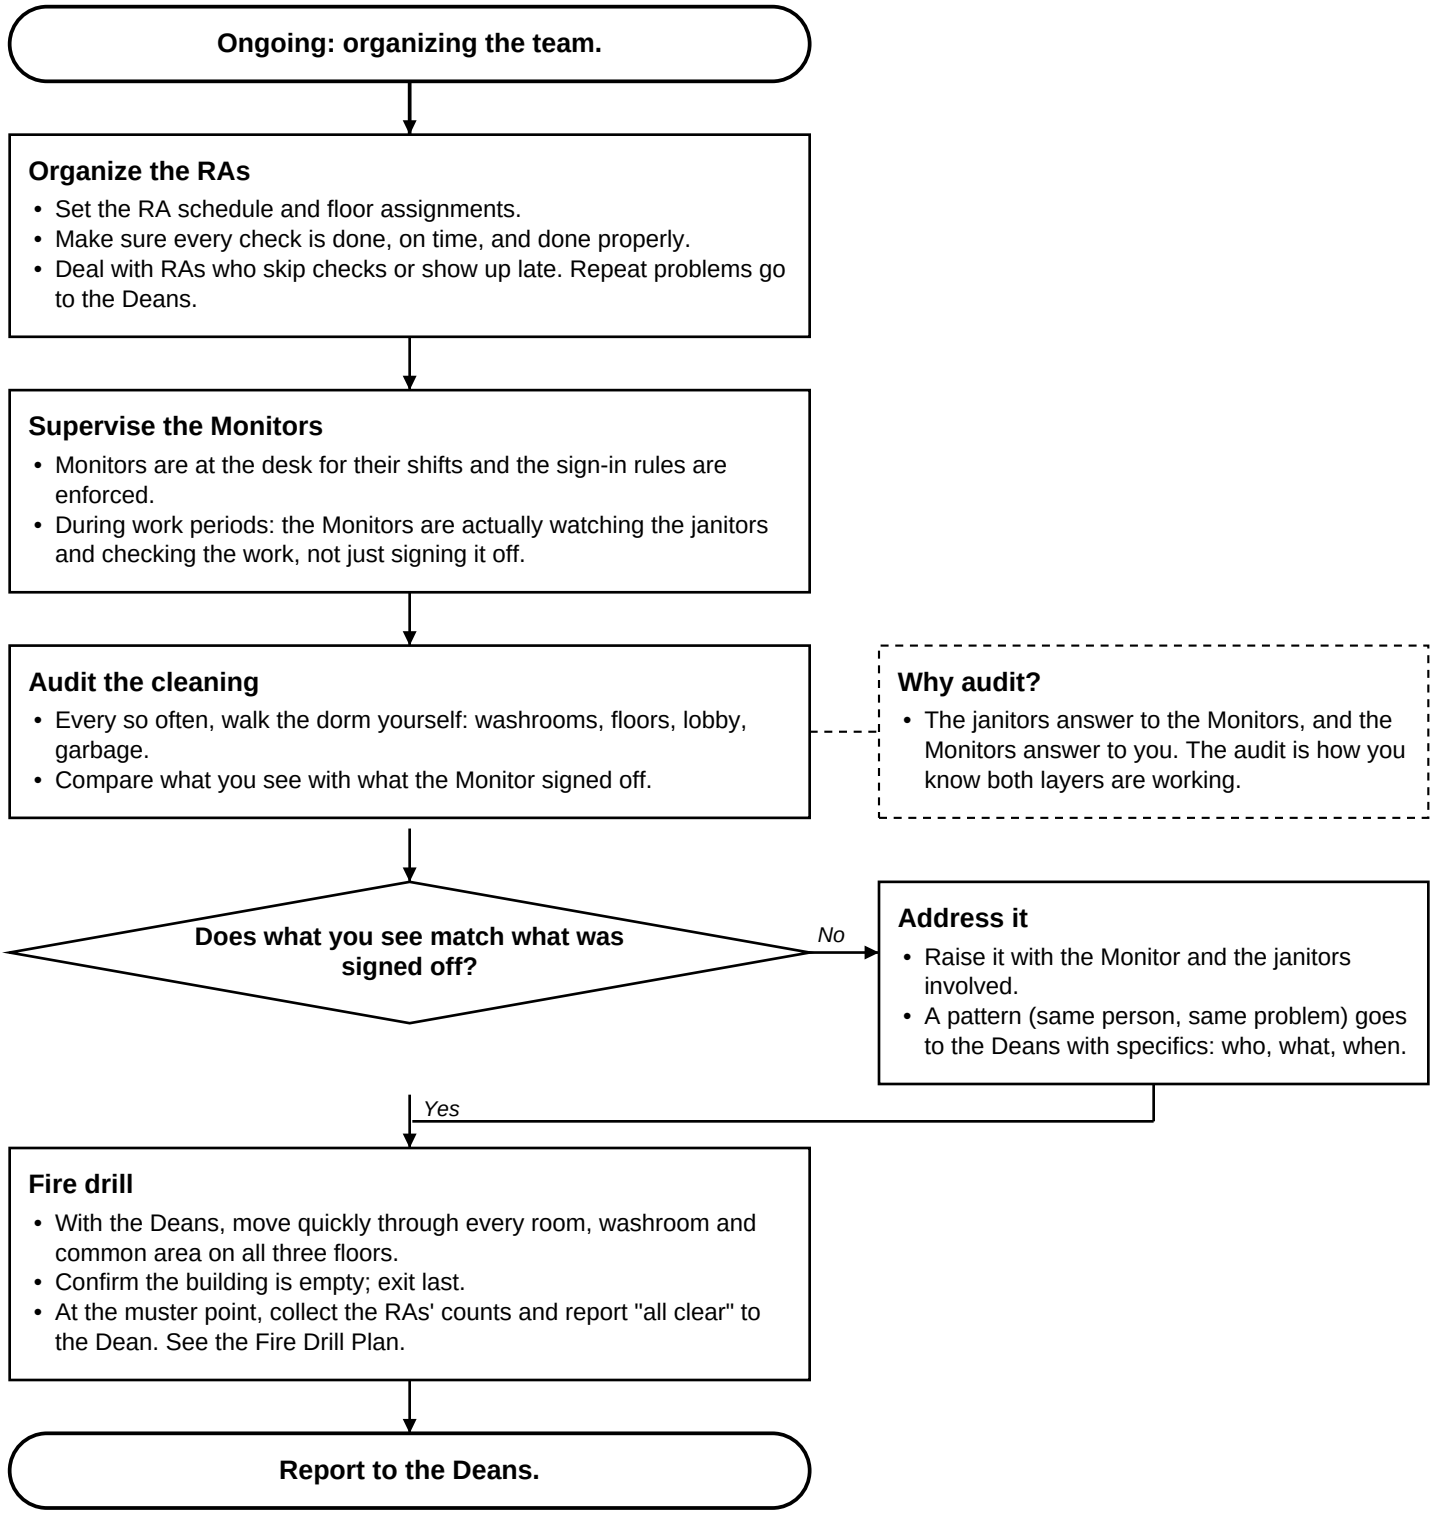
Reports to: the Deans. Oversees: the RAs, the Monitors and, through them, the janitors

The Head RA is the Deans' second set of eyes. Every night: make sure the RAs did their checks, walk the facilities, log what is wrong, and report to the Dean.



Head RA: organizing the team

Reports to: the Deans.

Oversees: the RAs, the Monitors and, through them, the janitors


Beyond the nightly check, the Head RA keeps the whole staff working: RAs doing their checks, Monitors watching the janitors, and the dorm actually getting cleaned.
